PAPERS SIGNED

THE NEW ELECTRIC RAILROAD TO GLENDALE IS NOW ASSURED

Connection with Los Angeles by the Huntington Yellow Car Line Possible within Three Months

Last Monday the signatures of Howard E. Huntington, general manager of the Los Angeles Railway company, was affixed to the agreement for the extension of the Eagle Rock electric railway to Glendale. The document had previously been signed by E. D. Goode and R. A. Blackburn, representing the people of Glendale, and by the Bank of Glendale, which is to hold all money and papers in escrow until the work is complete and through car service established between Glendale and Los Angeles.

In brief, the terms of the agreement are as follows:

The deeds to rights of way, and the sum of $17,500 to be placed in escrow at the Bank of Glendale within 30 days from the date of the agreement, (Oct. 16th), the same to be turned over to the company upon completion of the work. Within sixty days after the receipt of notice that these terms have been complied with, the railroad company will begin work and complete the same to a point on B street between Third and Fourth within nine months from the time work is begun. The company agrees to maintain a through car service from B street to or near the business center of Los Angeles. Provision is also made for a right of way to Third street, just north of the school house.

The committee failed to get inserted some other details considered desirable, but the circumstances warrant the belief that as to time of completion of the work, fare and car service, there will be no difficulty. That these details will all be worked out satisfactorily we feel assured from the fact that it is so palpably to the interest of the company to give good service and to give it just as soon as is practicable. Engineer Kuhrt, who has apparently been earnestly in favor of the project from the beginning, states that there will be a large crew of men available within three or four weeks, and if our people have by that time complied with the conditions, there is no reason apparent why the work should not be begun at once. The route of this line from Los Angeles to Glendale, is as follows:

Coming into Buena Vista street from Main, it runs out Buena Vista street, crossing the river turns northward at 20th avenue, which it follows westward until it crosses the arroyo, here it runs up the bank of the arroyo to Avenue 20th, where it strikes up along the base of the hills to and beyond the city limits parallel with the Salt Lake company's track. Crossing the Verdugo canyon county road it turns northward until the base of the hill on the Glassell ranch is reached; here it turns to the right across the Verdugo canyon road again and the original line continues on to Eagle Rock. The connection for Glendale will be made at this point, only a slight curve being necessary to give a direction about due north paralleling the county road on the east side through the property of Glassell and along the front of the Sagamore Hill tract, (old Workman ranch), keeping on the east side of the Verdugo Road until reaching a point on the land of Mr. Haines, when it takes the center of Verdugo Road, which has been widened to 100 feet by an addition of 47 feet of land contributed on each side of the road. A short distance above Fourth street the road turns westward through the lands of Ransom and of Phelps, direct to B street, passing close to the north end of the public school property.

The private right of way given the company along the center of Verdugo Road, while undesirable from an aesthetic point of view, is really essential to rapid service. Of course it will be only between cross streets that the rails will not be flush with the streets.

There is reason to believe that if the subscribers to the bonus fund pay up promptly and if the two or three property owners still to be dealt with in regard to right of way, are disposed to be generous and to make the remainder of the committee's work easy, the road will be completed in ninety days. The committee has held to its work perseveringly and are to be congratulated upon their success. In addition to the two members named, Messrs. J. P. Lukens, Asa Fanset, H. L. Bulkley and John A. Eppinger have rendered valuable assistance on the bonus committee. Their work is not yet ended, however, and our people should do everything in their power now to expedite the building of this road, which will be a factor in the upbuilding of Glendale, second only to the entrance of the Pacific Electric into this territory.

Pay your bonus money into the Bank of Glendale.

"Now watch us grow!"

On Wednesday evening, Miss Laura Bulkeley entertained a party of friends. The evening was spent in music and games, followed by light refreshments. In departing, all agreed they had had a lovely time. The invited guests were, Misses May Fanset, Mabel Benson, Ruby Borthick, Cora Ward, Alfa Sinclair; Messrs. Otto Amberg, Roy Currier, William Fanset, Chas. Lund and John Fanset.

CITY TRUSTEES.

Present, Messrs. Anderson, Jennings, Parcher and Watson.

The finance committee reported that Demand No. 314 for $51.65 for September lights, should be allowed in the sum of $46.65 only, instead of for $51.65, on account of failure of lights to burn for stipulated time. Demand was allowed as recommended. Warrants were ordered drawn on the general fund in payment of Demands 308, 309, 310, 311, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324 and 325 and warrant 326 on the fire bond fund in payment of Demand 319.

The city clerk reported that owing to the incomplete condition of the city map and other reasons, he was unable to determine the proper numbers for house numbering on streets, as required by ordinance. The city engineer was instructed to prepare a plat for use of the city clerk in determining block numbers, and the clerk was further instructed to await the completion of such plat before assigning any more numbers.

The street superintendent reported having conferred with E. M. Jessup, of the Salt Lake road, who desired information as to what is required. The clerk was instructed to notify Mr. Jessup that the law requires that the track be put to established grade and the space between the rails filled and oiled.

Certificates for delinquent taxes and report in regard to the same received from former tax collector, J. C. Sherer. The finance committee was instructed to employ an expert to audit the books and accounts of the tax collector's office for 1906 and 1907.

The city engineer reported that the petition for the improvement of a portion of Louise street had more than the requisite majority of frontage signed. The report was accepted and the clerk instructed to notify the petitioners that the petition is on file and requesting them to bring in an additional petition covering the improvement of the remaining portion of Louise street.

An ordinance adopting specifications for street work in the City of Glendale, was taken up for a third reading and was adopted.

An ordinance fixing the time and

GLENDALE, CAL., OCTOBER 26, 1907

With the Prohibitionists waiting until the sale and use of intoxicating liquor is forever abolished, while the socialist waits for the time when his "system" that abolishes human nature is in vogue, it seems to us that the drunkard of the present day is in a hopeless predicament. However, we hope that the real temperance workers of the Francis Murphy class, who take the fallen ones by the hand and bid them be of good cheer, have not entirely passed away.

Prohibition vs. Socialism

The Prohibition Chautauqua tent was filled on Friday evening of last week with Glendale citizens who had turned out to listen to a debate on Prohibition between the Rev. C. J. Hall and our fellow townsman, Mr. J. C. Beldin.

The crowd was not disappointed, for the affair was interesting. Both gentlemen are fluent speakers and both are quite positive that theirs is the only panacea for the evil which they had agreed to discuss.

Mr. Hall argued from the usual standpoint of the Prohibitionist, that the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor is a crime and should be prohibited by law, while Mr. Beldin arraigned the present competitive system which allows profit to be made by the sale of liquor, as being the primary cause of the evil.

The audience was highly entertained by the speakers as also by the singing of Mrs. Hall, and demonstrated that debates are more popular than monologues.

Our Water Supply

Sierra Madre, altho only incorporated a few months, is already agitating the public ownership of the water supply.

This is a question which our own young city will probably have to settle after awhile, even if not in the immediate future. There are good reasons, indeed, for taking up this subject very soon. The water question here is seriously complicated by the existence of so many small companies, and will become more difficult as time goes by.

We have the water in ample quantities for our needs and possess a most promising field for development. Nature has been lavish in providing us with this vital element; we need only to conserve it with wisdom and to arrange for its distribution to the consumer in a state of purity and at as little expense as possible.

In years past litigation has prevented development and been a cause of irritation and expense. At present, however, there is nothing in the way of an harmonious working out of the problem for the common interest of all concerned.

The Proposed Moving of the State Capital

Our friends who went on the editorial excursion to San Francisco recently were taken over to Berkeley and shown among other things, "the site of the proposed new capitol."

Berkeley is a beautiful place and the site offered for the capitol building is no doubt a beautiful one. But the capital has not been moved; and unless a great many voters are caught napping on election day, we believe it will remain at Sacramento.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company is said by those familiar with the workings of the last legislature, to have been responsible in the first place for the removal project, and as a consequence is still in favor of it, for obvious reasons. The hauling of the San Francisco (and others) bunch of statesmen to and from Sacramento is quite an onerous and expensive item with the S. P. They are in the habit of securing an adjournment over Saturday and Sunday, during which time they can confer with Messrs. Herrin and Parker and fix up the affairs of state in which they are interested. It would be much more convenient for the S. P. to have its representatives within thirty minutes' ride of railroad headquarters, as they would be at Berkeley.

Maybe the people of California will be willing to give up the splendid state capitol at Sacramento, with its magnificent park, and be at the expense of building a new one for the purpose primarily of accommodating the Southern Pacific railroad, but we seriously doubt it. We have not looked up the vote on the removal question, but it is a matter of record and anyone sportively inclined may safely wager dollars to doughnuts that the "push" voted in favor of it and will be found supporting it from that time until the question is decided at the polls.

The One Issue Parties

"There is no greater danger to society than a political party based on a single class or a single condition. Politics is the art of developing a platform on which a lot of people of diverse ideas and opinions may combine for united action. Parties must be organized on the lines of the common life of men. But beware of setting class against class."

The above are the words of Dr. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, speaking at the City Club in Los Angeles last Saturday. They are words of a wisdom which is the outgrowth of centuries of experience in government. The party of one idea is precisely analogous to the individual of one idea. The idea may be a good one, but whatever it is, it cannot be a concrete expression of that which embraces that multiplicity of the affairs of government which affects "the common life of man." The man of one idea is manifestly unfit for the administrative or legislative functions of government; and it follows that the party of one idea is equally unfit. It does not matter how lofty the aim of the individual. He may stand upon a platform for the enforcement of the ten commandments and he may hitch his chariot to the farthest star; but if he is not broad enough to appreciate the common wants of man and come down to earth occasionally to mingle with his fellows, he is unfit to lead or to rule in the everyday life of the world.

There is a very large number of good citizens who have an idea that a political party can exist and even succeed representing a single issue, and that issue one of morality chiefly.

We believe it is not the function of a political party to deal with strictly moral issues, no more than it is the business of a Chamber of Commerce or Board of Trade to do so. The same good people when they happen to be church members frequently favor putting the church forward in politics. This means the adoption of machine methods to accomplish this end. This is a survival of the practices of the church in times past, when "blue laws" were enacted and enforced and the spirit of the rulers of the church was in favor of "saving the souls" of men even if they had to burn their bodies!

Church members ought to take an interest in politics, but they ought to keep their church and their political conventions as far apart as possible. Let the people of one idea broaden out and think about something else; there is more than one thing worth living for and striving for in this world of ours and more ways than one of attaining results that will benefit mankind.

RESOLUTION NO. 88.

A RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE ORDERING CERTAIN WORK TO BE DONE ON A PORTION OF THIRD STREET.

The members of the M. E. Church will give a reception to their new pastor, Rev. N. J. Burton, on Tuesday evening, October 29th, at 7:30 o'clock in the church. Residents of Glendale generally, whether members of this church or not, are cordially invited to be present.

John Mulder was in Glendale this week, looking better than when we last saw him, altho he informs us that he has lately had another severe operation performed at the hospital. It will be remembered that he was a victim of the street car accident on the Boyle Heights electric line a year ago.

The Woman's Guild of St. Mark's Episcopal church met on Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. J. F. McIntyre on Cedar street. There was a very fair attendance, considering the weather, and work of much importance transacted. A pleasant social hour followed the business meeting.

Miss Mathias, matron of the home for Spanish girls near Hollywood, will speak of her work before the Woman's Home Missionary Society at the Methodist church, Tuesday at 2:30. She has been in the Spanish educational work for seven years, so has many things to tell us that will be of great interest to all who attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Smith are entertaining at their home on Everett street, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnston, of Rockford, Ill. They arrived Thursday evening and expect to make Glendale their future home. They will build a home immediately on the corner of Fourth and Everett streets, one of the finest localities in the city. This adds two more to the long list of relatives of Dr. A. L. Bryant who have crossed the Rockies to settle in Glendale. We owe much as a municipality to the doctor, our most genial population boomer.

Rev. B. S. Haywood, who returns to his mission field in Porto Rico in two weeks, will come from Los Angeles to speak on Sunday morning in the Methodist church on the subject of "Porto Rico." On Saturday Mr. Haywood will be entertained in the home of Mrs. Chas. Byrkit on B street, and on Sunday will be honored guest at dinner at the home of Rev. W. S. Blackburn. Mr. Haywood returns to Porto Rico in about two weeks, but Mrs. Haywood will spend the winter in Southern California. Mr. Haywood formerly had a charge in Riverside.

On Wednesday evening members of the Baptist church gave a most enjoyable entertainment as an expression of thanksgiving over the completion of the furnishing of their pretty church home, consisting of new carpet on the platform and matting in the aisles. The fine program consisted of well-chosen musical numbers and readings. This church has often been decorated in a manner so artistic as to call forth special praise, yet never was it more beautifully done than for this occasion. Among the numbers so thoroughly enjoyed by the audience was a piano duet by Mrs. Charlton and Mrs. Smith of Los Angeles; violin solo by Mr. Kranz accompanied by Mrs. Geo. U. Moyses; excellent numbers by the Marple Quartette of Tropic. The Miller boys' string duet on the mandolin and guitar called forth several encores. A reading, "Asleep at the Switch," by Mrs. J. G. Hunchberger, proved one of the most popular numbers. During the evening a freewill offering of over $50 was taken. Light refreshments were served by the ladies, thus completing a thoroughly delightful evening.

The Darktown Show

The members of the L. C. D. E. Club of the First Presbyterian church furnished fun and frolic to a large audience in the I. O. O. F. hall Friday night, under the management of Mrs. B. H. Nichols.

Sixteen members of the club gave a darkey baby drill and a laughable cakewalk. Mrs. Walter C. Fraley, the Darktown prima donna, was repeatedly recalled, as were Miss Eva Booth of Los Angeles as Topsy, Miss Faith Hardy of Redondo. Others participating were Mrs. McCoy, Mrs. Sinclair, Mrs. Rood, Mrs. J. Newcomb and Mrs. G. E. Williams.

The Darktown twins were a feature and little Eva proved a favorite. The antics of Topsy and stern Aunt Ophelia's attempts to make the bunch behave kept the crowd amused. Mr. Fraley as Uncle Tom and Mr. Andersen as Rufus Rastus Johnson Brown helped on the fun and the excessive dignity of Miss Lily Snow (Miss Patterson) was the best of all. Esther Sinclair made a hit as Poppy Ann, and was presented, as were a number of the performers, with a huge bouquet of sunflowers.

Refreshments were served at the cabin door by a bevy of hospitable old mammas. Table decorations were very beautiful and were arranged by Miss Ida M. Waite, in trailing greenery and yellow chrysanthemums.

To the Public

Having sold to Mr. J. D. McIsaacs, of Vancouver, B. C., my boot and shoe repairing business and shop on Glendale avenue, I recommend him to the people of Glendale as a first-class workman and worthy of their patronage, and thank them for the support given to me. E. McWATRY.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The art exhibit was a complete success as far as the students were concerned. They exerted themselves successfully to make the affair a success and a general enlivening of their interest in the work of the great artists, as shown by the copies of the masterpieces that graced the walls of the auditorium, is noticeable. The limited patronage of the public was something of a disappointment, but is probably accounted for by their failure to understand the real merit of the exhibit.

The Literary Society at its last regular meeting elected the following officers: Elsie Gilhausen, president; Chas. Brown, vice president; Imogene McKown, secretary; Dan McPeak, treasurer. The society will be divided into two sections, meeting alternately. The 9th and 11th years will constitute the first section, and the 10th and 12th years the second.

In spite of the fact that for some mysterious reason a number of the city papers declared in bold type that Polytechnic High school of Los Angeles defeated the local five on the Glendale grounds, last Saturday afternoon, exactly the opposite is the fact. Glendale won amid wildest enthusiasm, with a score of 23 to 22 when the whistle sounded. The sharp contest was witnessed by as interested a crowd as ever gathered on the campus, many of the spectators being from Los Angeles.

In the first half excitement rose to boiling heat. Good playing was done on both sides, the Polytechnic five showing good team work, but the weight, determination and practice of the Glendale five brought the score to 18 to 9 for first half, favor of home team.

During the second half the playing of the visitors was especially good, showing practice and knowledge of the game, and the rosters cheered themselves sick as hope ran high, but Glendale was game and when the time limit whistle sounded the score stood 23 to 22 and the visitors gracefully (?) accepted defeat.

C. Sprinkle did the best work for the Union High, making five baskets. A week previous the Glendale boys defeated Compton on the Compton grounds by a score of 33 to 19.

Saturday's line-up was as follows:

Glendale	Polytechnic
C. Sprinkle	Forward
C. Benson	Forward
C. Emory	Center
J. Coodsell	Guard
R. Stine	Guard
	Richshauer
	M. Blair

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

Regular meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon Club was held at the library Tuesday, Oct. 22. There was a small attendance owing to the rain. In addition to the transaction of routine business, the matter of the transfer of the library (which since its formation has been supported by the club) to the city library board, was taken up and the final details disposed of. The program of the day was an interesting one, being the first of the series on American history, which subject is to constitute the real work of the club for the coming year. For the day there were two topics, Pre-Historic Races and Early Discoverers and Explorers. Excellent papers were read on these subjects by Mrs. Burket and Miss McIntyre.

FOR SALE—Fine Burro, six years old, in fine condition. Inquire E. S. Comstock, Glendale.

WEDDING BELLS.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Barager of Cedar street have issued invitations for the wedding of their daughter, Miss Almee Winifred, to Charles Edward Bailey, formerly of Marquette, Michigan, but at present of Tropic. The marriage will take place on Thursday, November 7th, instead of on the 20th, as has been formerly announced, in the Methodist-Episcopal church, Rev. N. J. Burton officiating. Miss Cora Ward will act as maid of honor and twelve young and pretty bridesmaids, preceded by two sweet little flower girls, will be in the bridal party. The handsome church will be most artistically decorated for the occasion, and guests will come from Pasadena, Long Beach, Los Angeles, Tropic and Glendale, as the bride is well known at these places. It will be one of the important events, socially, of the winter season and has aroused much interest among the younger set in local society.

Fine Chrysanthemums

The News office has been rendered attractive during the past two days by a magnificent bouquet of chrysanthemums donated by Mrs. M. L. Anderson of the Anderson Floral Co., Sixth street east of Verdugo Road. There are a number of new varieties in the collection which go to show the possibilities of this splendid flower in our "glorious climate" when properly cared for. And the care given to their culture by the Anderson Floral Co. for the past several years has given to these growers an enviable reputation in the Los Angeles market, not for chrysanthemums only, but for cut flowers and their decorative work as well.

Grammar School Notes

The second base ball team will play the second Tropic team on Saturday (to-day) at 4 o'clock.

The basket ball team is hard at work and the girls are anxious to meet the High School team at the earliest pleasure of the latter. Alma Norton is missed by our team, as her enthusiastic work was an inspiration to the girls.

At the close of the first month of school last year, the number of pupils enrolled in the grammar school was 260. At the close of the first month this year the number is 334, an increase of 74 pupils.

Alma Norton and Barbara Deering have left the eighth grade recently and this week Erma and Edna Burton have entered.

The Cruiser California

We are in receipt of a communication from the committee appointed by the Governor to collect a popular subscription for the purpose of presenting to the Cruiser "California" a "suitable memorial from the state." It is customary for every state to make such a present to the war vessels which are named in their honor.

The ship is already in commission and ready for sea. Subscriptions in any amount will be gladly received, and the News is authorized to receive for and forward such amounts as our citizens wish to contribute.

Injured in Wreck

In a wreck which occurred on the railroad from Riverside to San Jacinto Thursday last, Mr. Lewis Catlin, a former resident of Glendale, was seriously injured. Mr. Catlin is express and baggage agent on the baggage car which was ditched. Particulars as to the extent of his injuries have not as yet been received, and it is hoped they are not as serious as reported.

R. G. DUN & CO.'S MONTHLY REVIEW OF TRADE CONDITIONS FOR SEPTEMBER IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

The price returns for the agricultural products of this section continue to exceed expectations. Crop failures in Europe and the Eastern States have created a keen market for all California products. Prices are uniformly high, in some instances 25 per cent. over former years. The vineries are now working full capacity and a shortage of drying trays is reported from raisin districts.

The fig crop is larger than that of last year and the olive output for 1907 will be three times that of 1906.

The celery crop is coming to maturity at least two weeks earlier than last season. It is large, extra fine quality and yield is expected to reach 3500 carloads. Shipments will begin last of this month. Vegetable shippers succeeded in getting a rate of compromise from the transcontinental lines of one-half the proposed freight advance. The walnut yield is falling about 80 carloads below last year's output, but crop is being priced higher than ever before in history of this industry—14@15c per lb. A price strengthener lies in fact that foreign crop is short.

The bean harvest is in full swing. The crop of limas will probably fall 100,000 sacks under early estimates, owing to unusually light yield per acre. For the first time in many years spot stocks are entirely cleaned up. Buyers are very active, paying as high as $4.95 a central at thresh. Growers are now asking 5c and talking a probable 6c. Blackeyes are bringing $3.50@4.00.

The sugar campaigns at the various factories are progressing favorably. The beet tonnage is running more than expected and percentage of sugar content is unusually high. The fruit and vegetable canners of this section report that their plans this season could meet but small proportion of demand, although in many cases the output was double that of last year. Higher prices have been received than ever before.

It is early yet for any accurate estimates of coming orange crop, but most growers agree that the yield will exceed that of last year.

The dried fruit market shows little change. There is little improvement in demand for peaches and apricots, but holders remain firm on quotations. The prune market is strong but Southern California stock this year runs small and this fact is affecting sales.

The raisin market is unsettled and opinions on the situation are far apart. Meanwhile prices to growers range about the same, 5 1/2@5 3/4c, and shipments are being freely made. Quotations rule easy at 8 1/4@8 3/4c for fancy seedd. Loose muscatsels 6 1/2@7 1/4c.

The spot market is bare of California products. The importations of foreign stock are not large enough under present conditions to materially affect conditions. To a disinterested observer it looks as if the raisin crop should go into consumption easily at present prices. Locally business, both retail and wholesale is reported satisfactory. Country collections have been satisfactory; city collections not up to what they should be. The realty business is quiet but September building figures exceed corresponding month of last year by $96,127.

Failures for month, 24; with liabilities of $412,000; assets $260,000. Same month last year, 21 failures; liabilities, $50,000; assets, $25,000.

LIBRARY NOTICE.

The Glendale Library and Reading Room is open to the public on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 1 to 6 o'clock.

MABEL PATTERSON, Librarian.

THE WANING HARDWOOD SUPPLY

Although the demand for hardwood lumber is greater than ever before, the annual cut today is a billion feet less than it was seven years ago. In this time the wholesale price of the different classes of hardwood lumber advanced from 25 to 65 per cent. The cut of oak, which in 1899 was more than half the total cut of hardwoods, has fallen off 36 per cent. Yellow poplar, which was formerly second in point of output, has fallen off 38 per cent., and elm has fallen off one-half.

The cut of softwoods is over four times that of hardwoods, yet it is doubtful if a shortage in the former would cause dismay in so many industries. The cooperage, furniture and vehicle industries depend upon hardwood timber, and the railroads, telephone and telegraph companies, agricultural implement manufacturers, and builders use it extensively.

This leads to the question, Where is the future supply of hardwoods to be found? The cut in Ohio and Indiana, which, seven years ago, led all other States, has fallen off one-half. Illinois, Iowa, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Jersey, Tennessee, Texas, West Virginia and Wisconsin have also declined in hardwood production. The chief centers of production now lie in the Lake States, the lower Mississippi Valley, and the Appalachian Mountains. Yet in the Lake States the presence of hardwoods is an almost certain indication of rich agricultural land, and when the hardwoods are cut the land is turned permanently to agricultural use. In Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi the production of hardwoods is clearly at its extreme height, and in Missouri and Texas it has already begun to decline.

The answer to the question, therefore, would seem to lie in the Appalachian Mountains. They contain the largest body of hardwood timber left in the United States. On them grow the greatest variety of tree species anywhere to be found. Protected from fire and reckless cutting, they produce the best kinds of timber, since their soil and climate combine to make heavy stands and rapid growth. Yet much of the Appalachian forest has been so damaged in the past that it will be years before it will again reach a high state of productiveness. Twenty billion feet of hardwoods would be a conservative estimate of the annual productive capacity of the 75,000,000 acres of forest lands in the Appalachians if they were rightly managed. Until they are we can expect a shortage in hardwood timber.

Circular 116, of the Forest Service, entitled "The Waning Hardwood Supply," discusses this situation. It may be had upon application to the Forester, Forest Service, Washington, D. C.

PROFESSOR ANDERSON TO COME TO BERKELEY.

A new addition has been made to the department of agriculture in the person of Leroy Anderson, at present head of the California Polytechnic School located at San Luis Obispo. Professor Anderson was appointed this afternoon upon a motion of President Wheeler at the meeting of the Board of Regents held in San Francisco. In 1902 he became director of the California Polytechnic School at San Luis Obispo, and has for the last five years held that important post. Under his direction the San Luis Obispo School has grown and proved in every way a success. The addition of Professor Anderson is looked upon as the beginning of an era of increased usefulness for the department of agriculture under the direction of Director Wickson.

The funeral services of Winfred Cooper, who died early Monday morning, were conducted by Rev. Henry, of the First Methodist-Episcopal church, at the family residence on Park avenue, Tuesday afternoon. The interment occurred at Forest Lawn cemetery. Mr. Cooper, who had been a sufferer for several years, is survived by a widow.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

One of the most interesting meetings of the Thursday Afternoon Club was held at "The Snuggery," the pretty bungalow home of Mrs. Charles Murray.

The house throughout was most tastefully decorated in bright hued autumn flowers and trailing greenery. A large watermelon prepared and filled with sweet elder, surrounded by gaily colored autumn leaves, was served with other refreshments. Mrs. Edward Lynch, club secretary, assisted Mrs. Murray. The members responded at roll call with quotations from Longfellow. Miss Maude Moore and Miss Harriet Meyers presented a most interesting program. Mrs. Seaman gave a reading, "The Night," from Longfellow, and Mrs. W. H. Halleck, "The Launching of the Ship," from the same poet. Miss Maude Moore presented a paper on the prehistoric discoveries of the new continent. Mrs. Andrew Stephenson followed with a paper on the voyages of Columbus and other explorers previous to 1512. Miss Harriet Meyers presented a paper relative to the explorations and discoveries following 1512. Much interest and enthusiasm was manifested in the reception of this program.

Twelve dollars was voted by the Thursday Afternoon Club for the purchase of new books for the Tropico Free library. Mrs. E. J. Morgan was appointed to purchase books for the library. Several hundred dollars' worth of stock has been subscribed towards the building fund of the proposed two thousand five hundred dollar club house, to be erected by the members of the Thursday Afternoon Club.

FIRE AT TROPICO.

About 7 o'clock on Friday evening of last week the house of Mr. Bailey, on Cypress street, near Central avenue, Tropico, was discovered to be on fire. Mr. Bailey was absent at the mines, Mrs. Bailey was calling upon a neighbor and their son who resides with them, was in Glendale. The house was a story and a half structure and the fire had started in the kitchen near the base of the stairway, which was particularly unfortunate, as it prevented access to the upper story, where considerable valuable stuff was stored. The fire did not at first make much headway, but there being no appliances for extinguishing it, it ran its course until the house was consumed. The furniture on the first floor was saved by neighbors who were quickly at the scene of the catastrophe. Mrs. Bailey telephoned to her son who was at Glendale, and he was on the scene in a very few minutes, but too late to do much service. The young man was particularly unfortunate as he had many personal belongings in the upper part of the house, papers, books, etc., connected with his college career, which cannot be replaced. The origin of the fire is rather unaccountable, although it may have originated from the crossing of electric wires. The value of the house was about $1800. Insured for $1500; there was also $1000 insurance on the furniture.

RALLY DAY.

Rally day was most appropriately observed by the members of the Sabbath school of the First Presbyterian church, Sunday morning. Song by school, followed with prayer by F. C. Richardson, superintendent of the Sabbath school; responsive Scripture reading; recitation, Mary Logan; exercises by primary class; song, Miss Bott's class of little girls; recitation, Jeanette Seaman; recitation, Calvin Enoch; song by school.

Flag drill, twelve little girls; class exercises, Boys of the Bible, by Mrs. Hobbs' class; recitation, Dorothy Leach; class exercise, Miss Bott's class; recitation, Harwood Collins; responsive reading, by school on organized Sabbath school work; song, Mrs. McCarroll and Miss Snell's class; talk, F. C. Richardson; anthem, by choir.

MOTHERS' MEETING.

The initial meeting of the mothers and patrons of the Tropico school district was held at the Tropico school building, Friday afternoon, and was largely attended.

Mrs. E. M. McClure, under whose efficient supervision the meeting was held, was ably assisted by the entire corps of teachers. The large halls and corridors, as well as several rooms were most effectively decorated in palms, ferns and quantities of bright-hued autumn blossoms.

A pleasing program of music, recitations and drills was presented by the pupils. The young girls of Miss May Cornwall's room, seventh grade pupils, served fruitade and wafers. Extensive improvements have been made on the school grounds recently.

WATER MEETING.

An interesting meeting of the stockholders of the Tropico Water company was held at Logan's hall. Three thousand six hundred and eighty shares were represented. H. P. Thornton was chosen president; E. W. Richardson, vice president; E. J. Morgan, secretary. Dwight Griswold and M. A. Griswold comprise the other directors of the company.

A Camping Trip

Mr. O. C. Logan, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Logan, and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Logan returned last Saturday from a ten days camping out trip to the country around Elizabeth Lake and other portions of the Antelope Valley. They report having had a most enjoyable time and hope to repeat the experience next season. The apple crop around Elizabeth Lake is large, and Mr. O. C. Logan who has seen the apple country of Oregon and elsewhere, says the fruit is the finest he ever saw; the apples growing unusually large and brilliant in coloring, fragrant and luscious. The crop is now being hauled to Lancaster and Palmdale the nearest shipping points. Game was found plentiful, ducks in great numbers congregating about the lake, the party securing all they could use. Deer were seen and tracks indicated that they are numerous in the vicinity.

The engineers of the Owens River aqueduct commission are at work in the neighborhood of Elizabeth Lake, preparing to begin work on the tunnel through the mountains in that locality.

GRIFFITH PARK ZOO.

If the plans of Mayor Harper and the board of park commissioners of Los Angeles are carried out, a portion of Griffith Park will be set aside for a zoological garden with a "zoo" that will in time rival the famous Bronx Park in New York City.

Griffith Park is an ideal location for a zoological garden; there most of the animals can live under conditions similar to their native state. Hundreds of acres of rolling land with drags and dens already prepared by nature await the advent of the hapless creatures from the marshy, suffocating quarters at Eastlake.

Thursday the park commission issued instructions that all the deer shall be removed from Eastlake to Griffith Park. Soon it will recommend to the council that a portion of the tax funds be set aside to make a beginning on the great Griffith Park zoological garden.

The Los Angeles Pacific Railway and the Pacific Electric are considering routes for electric lines into the park. Surveyors are at work on a route for the automobile road passing through the park and connecting with Hollywood and the Cahuenga Pass.

Griffith Park is already the home of

S. C. Gas Circuit Co.

The location of a gas plant within easy reach of La Brea oil wells, will solve for the new company several important questions. It will give cheap fuel within easy reach, and a large body of consumers without expensive length of mains. Economy in the matter of fuel will also enable the company to make a good profit on its business in Tropico and Glendale. Signatures already obtained cover practically all that territory and on Friday last a limited block of stock, set apart for any in that section who desired to invest had been nearly all subscribed for. The company has already sufficient business pledged to make it safe to go on with the enterprise. Success does not depend on the action of Hollywood but any immediate prospect of gas in the large part of Hollywood still unsupplied seems to depend upon the new company.—Hollywood Citizen.

Alva Johnson Pardoned

Alva Johnson, was paroled the other day by the State Prison Board, after having served about twelve years for the crime of train robbery committed thirteen years ago at Roscoe station about ten miles above Glendale. Johnson had resided at Tropico until a short time previous to the commission of the crime for which he was sentenced, but at the time of the wrecking of the train was supposed to be an "honest rancher" in Tajunga Canyon, until he fell in with "Kid" Thompson, an essentially bad man from Arizona and elsewhere, he had led a fairly respectable life. Yielding to Thompson's specious arguments to the effect that the railroad company was a robber of the poor farmer and etc., Johnson was led into the commission of the crime which turned out more seriously than he anticipated probably, as two lives were lost by the wreck. He afterwards confessed, assisting in sending Thompson to the penitentiary for life, himself receiving a twenty year sentence, we believe.

He was generally looked upon as a weak tool of a hardened rascal and it is probable that the state board has acted humanely and wisely in paroling him.

Children long for Bread if it is good. They couldn't have a healthier desire. Try some of our bread on your children. See how quickly they will eat it and ask for more. That'll show you. Then taste some yourself. That'll prove to you that when we say our bread is fine we know what we are talking about. You'll need no coaxing to buy after the first trial.

BANK FOR BURBANK.

At a meeting held in Burbank on the evening of Saturday, Oct. 19th, it was determined to establish a bank. For a week or more prior to the meeting a subscription paper had been circulated among the people of the community with the result that liberal subscriptions to the stock were received and this list was materially added to at the meeting.

The remaining necessary shares as yet unsubscribed will be placed through the Columbia Trust Co. of Los Angeles, who are named as trustee for the subscribers in the subscription paper.

The bank is to be purely local in character and it is probable that a majority of the total capital stock of $25,000 will be held by people interested in Burbank and vicinity. A local board of directors will be elected and the management will be comprised of local merchants and farmers of the community. It is estimated that large sums of money are now on deposit in Los Angeles, Glendale and Hollywood banks, which properly belong in Burbank, and the proprietors of the enterprise feel confident of securing a fair share of these deposits when the bank is established.

John D. Radcliff was made chairman and A. E. Dufur secretary of the meeting, and after brief statement of the proposition and purposes of the meeting had been made the following committees were elected from among the largest of subscribers: committee to confer with the Columbia Trust Co. on details of permanent organization, Martin Pupka, A. O. Kendall, Geo. H. Luttge, Orville Myers and Henry Herberger. Committee to investigate and report on building site, C. F. Greeman, W. J. Hornby and Martin Pupka. These committees were directed to report on Saturday evening, Oct. 26th. Following discussion and a few brief speeches the meeting was adjourned until that date.

The subscription lists were left open, and subscriptions will be received at Luttge Bros., A. O. Kendall's, or by A. E. Dufur, at the S. P. depot at Burbank.

THE WEATHER.

It looks very much from the standpoint of a mundane observer as if Jupiter Pluvius had put an apprentice on to his job. And we venture to say that he is a tenderfoot amateur from the East where the weather is regulated as per calendar. Here it is only the latter part of October with new growth of grass and weeds jumping up through the earth as if Spring was pushing them up from below. Green grass in California in October anywhere outside of our irrigated lawns, is a novelty that the "old settler" can hardly match. After several days of promise, on Tuesday morning rain began to fall and showers with lowering sky in the intervals have since been the rule.

The sensation of the program, however, was sprung upon us about noon on Wednesday when one of the heaviest rainfalls we have seen here for several years, descended upon unprotected pedestrians and others and continued about ten minutes. The streets were soon carrying large streams of water off towards Tropic, where no rain fell. In fact, the line of demarcation seems to have been in the neighborhood of Lomita Park, as there was only a light shower at Ninth street. Toward the mountains the rainfall was very heavy and a large stream came down the Arroyo Seco to East Los Angeles, but passed in a few minutes. The total rainfall for the storm has been only about one inch, at present writing, however, (Thursday) there is promise given of an addition to this measurement.
